Re: PED Scope

Eagle Alloy, Inc is a registrant of SRI Quality system registrar for ISO 9001 and material PED. The scope of the material PED includes all grades offered as related to the Manufacture of steel castings for industrial and transportation applications. SRI has evaluated Eagle Alloy, Inc's management systems to determine its conformity to the ISO 9001 standard. In regard to the material PED addendum, SRI samples contracts that include material PED requirements and confirms the management system controls provide for material identification, traceability and release. As part of the review, SRI confirms that all material specifications are confirmed by test results. SRI also confirms any additional contract requirements related to material PED orders. If your material PED customers have any questions, they can contact me directly.
